Just for that note Dick Tubbs sent me about almonds I'm going to trade my almonds for oil, provided I can find some one who wants to make the trade. I haven't been able to find any one in 20 years, although I've searched diligently, but unsuccessfully, which leads me to the conclusion that there isn't as many suckers in the world as Barnum estimated. However, there is a kernel of comfort of the report Dick sends that the imports on shelled almonds for the month of June was nil. Going up to the almond every next week to place a few flowers on the grave. The bees might want something to eat. The squirrels got the nuts.

Water is the god of the harvest. Wish we had more of it. Maybe we would have fewer dust bowlers. I'm willing to admit other states have as good soil as we have if it will keep them home. It's quite a concession, but I'll do it.

Wire carries the news that a man died in Los Angeles of heat. The distributing agency will probably be asked to send out a correction tomorrow and give the cause of death something else. It may have happened, but to admit it is treason.

A couple of hundred thousand dollars will help lessen the danger of river floods, if the resistance is put in the right places, and engineers will see to that. There has been considerable uneasiness among ranchers in the old flood area for fear of a repetition of the damage inflicted last March. The state has sent notice $200,000 is available for protection.

This is the final week of the primary campaign. I'm not a candidate, but I am a victim of frequent invitations to attend this dinner or luncheon or barbecue, or an afternoon tea, which could be pink. Voters will welcome the close of the campaign as well as the candidates. There may be room one of these days for an organization to be known as "The Protection of Candidates from Solicitors." Most everybody is trying to sell them something.

My experience with the human race has been that it was a hard task to get it to talk, and harder to get it to stop. We worry because the baby isn't learning to talk soon enough, and a few years later that same baby asks you so many questions you get a headache.

Those "kiddies" who string along South Main street with their thumbs pointing upward won't even have a thumb left if they do not use more care. Hiking around the beach is a summer avocation. The hikers congregate every school vacation along this thoroughfare to solicit transportation. It's natural for a "kid" to want to go swimming. But the risk involved is sometimes too great to compensate for the pleasure. Automobile drivers sometimes have to act quickly to avoid hitting some one trying to get a ride.

Justus Craemer over to place a little political business and venture the prediction that Merriam would be renominated. Our paper being independent I walked out to the curb before venturing an opinion—and preference.

Wheat yesterday touched the lowest price for the past four years. Gee, what a break the farmer isn't getting for feeding the world. What the farmer gets is more work for what he produces and smaller prices for what he sells. It's a great life if you have a desk and a typewriter and sell what the other fellow produces without taking his risk.

It might help some if anonymity authors would retreat into the pure air of the High Sierras. There would also be the risk that the purified ozone might result in suffocation. Even that would help.

Believe it or not, inquiry, says a realtor, for small acreage and houses is increasing. Many prefer enough ground so they can grow enough to keep physically active, and also for small income to keep the home fires burning. No smudge pots included.

Most voters have a hunch that radio addresses during the remainder of the campaign are likely to carry a lot of heat. Some of the boys are getting mad.

Japs To Shoot All Planes

SHANGHAI. (AP)—A Japanese naval spokesman served warning today that any civilian plane flying over what Japan has designated the war area of China is in danger of being shot down. He declared that the airplane of the Chinese-American National Aviation corporation which was forced down and machine-gunned by Japanese warplanes near Canton yesterday was mistaken for a Chinese bomber.

The Japanese army has designated all of China east of a line between Pankhoi, deep in the south, and Sian, in west-central Shensi province, a zone of hostilities.

12 BELIEVED DEAD

HONGKONG. (AP)—Airline officials said tonight they believed at least 12 persons died inside the Chinese-American airplane which was forced down and machine-gunned by Japanese warplanes yesterday between Canton and Macao.

A spokesman for the China National Aviation corporation, the owners of the line's reports indicated the plane, riddled by machine-gun bullets, was entirely submerged in the small river on which the American pilot, H. L. Woods of Winfield, Kan., set it down.

Only three survivors who reached Macao were definitely accounted for tonight—Woods, the radio operator, Loe Loh, and a passenger, C. N. Lou—although earlier reports said two wounded Chinese passengers were in a hospital at Shekhi, north of Macao. Passenger Lou also was wounded.

140 DEGREES

SHANGHAI. (AP)—A final, successful assault on Juichang, a major objective in the Japanese drive toward the provisional capital of Hankow, was reported this afternoon in a Japanese army communique.

The victory, the first notable Japanese advance since the invaders' occupation July 26 of Kiukiang, a Yangtze river port, 21 miles to the east, occurred in sweltering heat of 140 degrees. Japanese observers maintained the fall of the walled city put the invaders in a position to outflank 30 Chinese divisions deployed along the 90-mile railway between Kiukiang and Nanchang, Chinese air base and another objective in the Hankow campaign.

Buena Park Youths Injured in L. A. Motorcycle Crash

William Balton and Harold Chambers, Buena Park youths, were seriously injured yesterday in a Los Angeles motorcycle accident, according to a teletype report received here by the sheriff's office.

Families of both boys were notified by deputies, and left for the Georgia Street receiving hospital in Los Angeles, where the injured youths were taken.

Man Jailed for Drunk Driving

Joe Sanchez, 30, laborer of 1211 East Second street, started for the Placentia dance last night. He tarried too long on the way and didn't get to dance.

As he drove up to the dance hall, Deputy Sheriff Ezra Stanley arrested him on a drunk driving charge. He was booked at the county jail.

Tax Lien Filed On Harlow Estate

8 Arrests in Prison Baking Deaths Due

PHILADELPHIA. (AP)—Arrest of at least eight persons in the "baking to death" of four convicts who led a hunger strike at the Philadelphia county prison was predicted today by Coroner Charles A. Hersch.

He said the investigation he is conducting with District Attorney John A. Boyle indicated that at least that many would be implicated in the deaths of the men in steam-heated, almost air-tight punishment cells.

State prison investigators said they planned to "turn on the heat" and enter the stuffy cells to learn whether the punishment cell block was "a deliberately planned roaster."

Charles I. Engard, secretary of welfare, directing the state's investigation of the deaths, disclosed that men from his office and two state policemen would make the test.

"They plan to close the windows and ventilators," he said, "just as we understand they were closed Sunday night, and have the steam pressure in the radiators turned on to the same degree they were when the prisoners were in there."

DIPLOMAT, WIFE KILLED

BARNSTABLE, Mass. (AP)—Dr. Victor Eduardo Verdades de Faria, consul general of Portugal at New York, and his wife, Katherine, were killed today when their automobile was struck by a train.

Identification of the bodies was made by the Portuguese minister to the United States, Dr. Joao de Bianchi, who is summing at nearby Osterville. The wife of the consul was 38, the husband 40.

The couple, who had been visiting on Cape Cod were driving toward Hyannis when their roadster collided with the train.

LOYALISTS' LINES HOLD

HENDAYE, France (AP) (The Spanish Frontier). (AP) Government forces reported today they held the line in the Ebro front in South Catalonia where they were holding firm against diminishing fury of insurgent attacks.

Although the government troops admitted the insurgents carried some advances, they reported they insisted actual battle lines were changed little since they were established a month ago.

An indication that the insurgent counter-offensive was wearing itself out was seen in a communique merely listing captured material on the Ebro front yesterday as "14 machine guns, one mortar and a munitions dump."

Housewife-Winner Of U. S. Title Dies

SANTA MONICA. (AP)—Funeral services will be conducted here tomorrow for Mrs. Jessie Ruth Harvey, 25, housewife who won the women's national pocket billiard championship in 1935. Mrs. Harvey died at her home Tuesday night.

Her husband, William E. Harvey, reported her missing July 7. She returned home the next day in a dazed condition, and had been ill in a sanitarium since. Death was caused by pneumonia.

N. Y. Labor Holds NLRB Favors CIO

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—New York's State Federation of Labor today adopted a resolution condemning the administration of the National Labor Relations act after a bitter floor fight.

The resolution charged, among other things, that the National Labor Relations board had shown "favoritism to the C. I. O."

Rival Candidates Tour South Carolina Together, Greatly Amusing Populace

NEWBERRY, S. C. (AP)—A political spectacle which no other state is permitted to see is drawing to a close.

South Carolinians have survived with easy aplomb, some dignity and a great deal of high spirits 40 odd days of campaigning in which three senatorial candidates have taken all the tongue lashing they could give each other.

The style of campaigning is peculiar to South Carolina.

Senator Ellison D. Smith takes the platform and states his case. He cites his record, defends it against any assaults he can anticipate and asks for the support of the voters for re-election.

Edgar A. Brown, a state senator, claims the floor and tells why he thinks he would make a better United States senator than Smith.

Accuser Of Hines Is Firm

NEW YORK. (AP)—With a slight grin, George Weinberg, 36, ex-gangster testifying for the state in the conspiracy trial of Tammany district leader, James J. Hines, acknowledged under cross-examination today that he was "not a very good perjurer."

Through a barrage of questions by Hines' chief defense counsel, Lloyd Paul Stryker, Weinberg denied that he had "cooked up" his story of a politico-racketeer combine in pre-trial conversations with "Big Harry" Echoenhaus and J. Richard (Dixie) Davis, the "kid mouthpiece" of the multi-million dollar Dutch Schultz policy racket.

NOT VERY GOOD

"How do you regard yourself as a perjurer—good or bad?" demanded Stryker.

"Well, it couldn't be good."

"It couldn't be very good, could it?"

"No, sir," Weinberg replied. The witness, a thin faced, sharp eyed former lieutenant of the slain gangster, Schultz, denied that he had committed perjury in the current trial but blandly admitted that he had perjured himself 17 years ago when he was convicted of burglary conspiracy charges.

THEFT DENIED

Stryker also denied that he had stolen $300,000 from the Schultz "policy empire."

"What happened to that money?" asked Stryker, referring to one $300,000 item.

"Well, Schultz," Weinberg began.

"You stole it, Weinberg, didn't you?" Stryker rasped. "You stole it, didn't you?"

"No," Weinberg replied calmly. "I did not."

DEWEY OBJECTS

Weinberg maintained his spunk, but the face of Stryker's shouted barrage of questions, which drew repeated objections from District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey.

"Let the witness answer the question," Dewey protested as Stryker tumbled one question on top of another in a rapid-fire succession that left Weinberg open-mouthed.

As the state's principal witness thus far, Weinberg had testified that the racket syndicate cleared $750,000 during 156 days.

"Then the fix of questions, numbers went off," Weinberg related, "and our banks were hit for $400,000 in one month's time."

DENIES STEALING

"But the other $300,000—what happened to that?" Stryker persisted.

"Well, Schultz got it," Weinberg said.

"Weinberg," he said, "you would not have any scruples about stealing, would you, you wouldn't mind pilfering that $300,000, would you, Weinberg? Would you steal that money?"

Court Ruling Cuts L. A. Milk Prices

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Milk prices were dropping in Los Angeles today as a result of distributor reaction to Judge Charles D. Bailey's decision, given last Friday, that a portion of the state milk control act is unconstitutional.

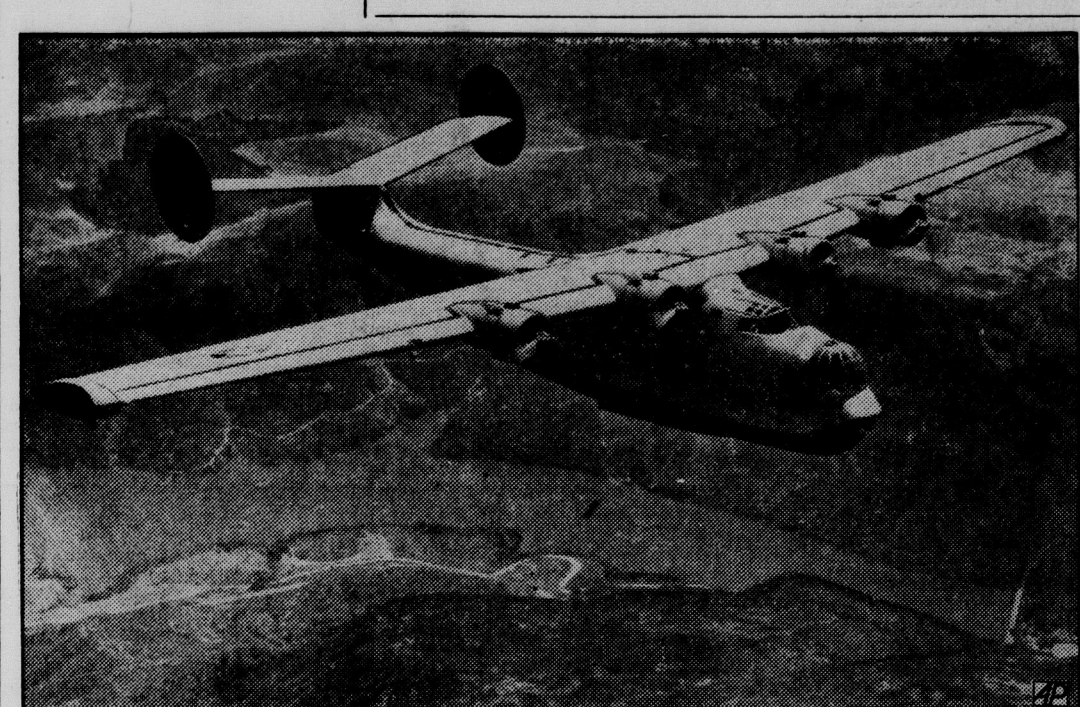

Some stores were retailing milk at 8 cents and others held the price at nine. Standard milk has been selling at 10½ cents.

F.D.R. Calls Farley For Drive On Anti-New Deal

HYDE PARK, N. Y. (AP)—President Roosevelt called James A. Farley today for a conference which may result in an intensified administration drive to defeat anti-New Deal Democrats in congress.

The Roosevelt-Farley talk, scheduled for sometime today or tomorrow, was considered one of the most politically-important of the President's stay here.

Mr. Roosevelt presumably wanted to talk with his political generalissimo about campaign developments in a half dozen states, Farley's advice was expected to determine in part whether the President will make a personal bid in Maryland for the defeat of Senator Millard Tydings, an aggressive foe of the administration.

Also among probable topics of conversation between the two were the political situation in New York, Idaho, Georgia, South Carolina and Connecticut.

Thus far, Farley has had no part in the President's drive against anti-administration Democrats seeking renomination. While the President was traveling westward on his recent campaigning trip Farley was making general political talks on a trip through the Northwest to Alaska.

MAY CLEAR STAND

There has been general speculation regarding Farley's attitude toward Mr. Roosevelt's proposed "purge" of anti-administration Democrats.

The projected conference between the chief executive and his postmaster general was expected to clarify Farley's stand.

Mr. Roosevelt presumably wanted information from Farley as to what the administration might accomplish in states now politically questionable.

The President has had several invitations to speak in Maryland in behalf of Representative David Lewis, administration candidate for the senatorial nomination.

NEW YORK AND IDAHO

In Idaho, the chief executive's problem is whether to throw administration support behind Senator James P. Fope if the latter, defeated in the Democratic primary, should run for reelection as an independent.

The New York situation involves the question of whether Mr. Roosevelt should support Governor Herbert Lehman for the senate. Lehman opposed the President's supreme court reorganization plan, but has supported most New Deal programs.

Also, the President apparently wanted to talk with Farley about the renomination race of Representative John O'Connor (D. N. Y.), whom Mr. Roosevelt has called "one of the most effective obstructionists in the lower house."

Baltimore Broker Faces 12 Charges

Wagner Act Delays Recovery, Says U.S. Chamber Of Commerce

LABOR BOARD HELD PARTIAL; CHANGE ASKED

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The United States chamber of commerce recommended changes in the Wagner Labor Relations act today to correct what it termed "influences working strongly against economic recovery."

George H. Davis, president of the chamber, criticized both the act and its administration in a statement which followed by only a few days President Roosevelt's announcement that some revision of the law would be considered.

Mr. Roosevelt told reporters last week he had no specific changes recommended but he agreed with President William Green of the American Federation of Labor that the act should be clarified.

Davis said the chamber of commerce wanted amendments to:

Prohibit coercion of employees by union groups and others, as well as by employers.

Define unfair labor practices so that unions also would be held responsible.

Permit employers to ask action of the labor board. This now is limited to employees.

Davis charged that the board's proceedings "have not been fair and impartial and there has been ample demonstration of the fact that the legislation has not fulfilled its stated purpose of lessening industrial disputes."

He asserted the act does not provide "adequate protection against encroachment by majorities upon the rights of individuals."

"The majority rule actually operates to prevent large numbers of employees from being represented by labor organizations of their own selection," he said.

(The law provides that workers have the right to organize and bargain collectively with their employers through representatives of their own choosing. It forbids employers to interfere with the exercise of that right.)

Davis said that if the labor act "is to operate, it is essential that its provisions adhere to the following principles:

"To the extent that it is feasible for the federal government to protect employees against interference in the exercise of the right of self-organization, such protection should extend to practices engaged in not only by employers but by employees and others.

"Legislative restrictions affecting employer-employee relations should be so clearly and definitely set forth in the statute as to enable all parties concerned to understand their rights and obligations."

Eleven Escape Death in Forced Landing

This Transcontinental and Western Air skyliner made a forced "Belly" landing a moment after taking off from TWA Airport at Albuquerque, N. M., but its eight passengers and crew of three escaped with only a few cuts and bruises. Airline officials said apparent partial failure of one of the plane's two engines caused the accident.

Duties of County Officials Compiled by Women Voters For Education of Citizens

An "educational campaign" to acquaint Orange county voters with the duties and responsibilities of various county offices was launched today by the Orange County League of Women Voters.

know," he said.

"You have stolen, haven't you and perjured yourself?"

"I never stole," Weinberg said.

On direct examination, Weinberg had testified that he paid Hines $500 a week in cash, sometimes more, as political "fixes" for the Schultz racket and that Hines had "taken care" of policy raid arrests in New York magistrates' courts.

JUSTICE ASKS QUESTIONS

Supreme Court Justice Ferdinand Pecora frequently took over examination of the witness, his soft voice contrasting sharply with Stryker's shouts.

After repeatedly questioning Weinberg about assurances he and "Big Harry" Schoenhaus, another Schultz mobster, had received from the district attorney assurance that leniency would be sought for them in return for turning state's evidence, Stryker asked Weinberg why he and "Big Harry" were kept together in a hotel room.

"Do you think you were put there because you were dear old friends?" Stryker snapped.

"I don't know,"

HINES WATCHES

Wasn't it because you had spent a month in a cell with Dixie Davis and were then put with Schoenhaus so you could talk it over and hear what story you were going to tell against James J. Hines?"

(J. Richard "Dixie" Davis, former attorney for Schultz, also has pleaded guilty in the case and is scheduled to testify for the prosecution.)

"I don't know," Weinberg said.

"You hadn't been very successful before as a perjurer, had you?"

"No."

"And you wanted to talk with someone else and make certain you'd be more successful this time?"

Weinberg shrugged. Throughout the cross-examination, Hines watched Weinberg intently. His jaw muscles flexed slightly, but otherwise he showed no signs of emotion which shook him in yesterday's dramatic interchange when he arose from his seat, whipped off his horn-rimmed glasses and snapped at Weinberg: "You know you lie!"

HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—A dwindling band of film pioneers gathered today for the funeral of Mrs. Jean Hathaway, serial queen of 30 years ago.

As the industry grew, she was cast in Thomas H. Ince's first great venture, "Custer's Last Stand," in three reels.

SHIPS COLLIDE IN BALTIMORE

BALTIMORE, (AP)—The 352-ton coastwise steamer Mallard, owned by the Baltimore Oceanic Steamship company, and the 6027-ton West Coast steamer Sidney M. Hauptmann, with a cargo of lumber, collided early today in the harbor here.

Coast guardsmen reported no one was injured. Boatswain's Mate Peter Bitto said the Mallard, her port quarter stove in from below the water line to the deck, was beached and the Hauptmann proceeded under her own power to a pier here. The Mallard later was refloated and brought here.

Gov. Merriam Endorsed by Mayors of Four Cities

TO THE PEOPLE OF ORANGE COUNTY:

As the chief executives of four of the principal cities of Orange county, we have, during the past several years had occasion to approve the attitude of Governor Merriam toward local government.

In relations between our cities, the county and the state administration, we have found Governor Merriam to be eminently fair and to have a clear understanding of the problems of our local governments.

CITY TAX BURDEN RELIEVED

This is evidenced by his prompt and timely aid given our outfall sewer system after the flood. The state's contribution of $90,000 to sewer repair made possible the immediate rebuilding of the system.

Governor Merriam further demonstrated his interest in the city government by supporting and signing the bills appropriating to the cities of the state a total of one-half cent per gallon of the state's portion of the gasoline tax. This relieves local taxpayers of a large burden of street improvement and maintenance costs.

COUNTY TAX BURDEN RELIEVED

Gov. Merriam's generous allocation of $200,000 for flood damage reconstruction on the Santa Ana river has materially relieved the tax burden of Orange county. Furthermore it has contributed much to future public health and safety.

The governor has been a steady and dependable friend of the public schools and has taken an active part in the development and maintenance of the school system. He has consistently supported a program of state financing of local school costs.

As mayors of respective cities, we appreciate the fine service he has performed for the state in the management of its fiscal affairs and we particularly admire his accomplishment in balancing the budget. We commend him for wiping out a large depression deficit.

In the interest of the State of California, we join heartily in endorsing Governor Merriam for renomination and re-election.

Hitler Parades German Might Before Hungarian Regent

FRIENDSHIP PLEDGED BY TWO LEADERS

BERLIN (P)—Nazi Germany followed up a guaranty of the integrity of Hungarian frontiers today with its greatest post-war military display before Admiral Nicholas Horthy, regent of Hungary.

In an exchange of toasts at a sumptuous state dinner last night, Chancellor Adolf Hitler as a "friend and neighbor" promised the Hungarian ruler that "we as neighbors have found our definite, historic boundaries through historic events (German annexation of Austria on March 13)."

Admiral Horthy replied: "The wish for continuation of peaceful reconstruction which animates us and our friends is safe insurance that our people can pursue successfully the high aim of peace based on mutual good will and justice through further close collaboration, thereby serving best their own interests and those of the rest of the world."

Hitler showed Horthy in the two-hour parade that the old Prussian spirit which the Hungarian admiral learned to know during the World war, still lived.

He also showed the guest that Germany has one of the most modern armies in the world from the viewpoint of technical equipment.

With traditional Prussian precision the infantry, cavalry, air force and motorized units paraded by, goose-stepping snappily and forming lines straight as dyes.

For the first time the officers gave the Nazi salute with outstretched hand, instead of the military salute they passed the two chief executives. This was by recent order and applies only to parades before the chancellor.

In the display were 16-inch howitzers, the biggest ever seen in Germany, and modern companion pieces to the "big berthas" or World war fame.

Horses were used in the parade for drawing heavy cannon, although many guns were motor-driven. Detachments of bicycle and motorcycle troops passed the reviews.

Long before dawn 16,000 drab-uniformed, steel-helmeted troops of the third army corps—2000 more than marched before Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy on his visit Sept. 25-29, 1937—began concentrating in Berlin.

Among the soldiers and parading units were 787 officers, 15,226 soldiers, 694 motorized units, 22 horse-drawn vehicles, 412 armored cars, 752 horses, 318 motorcycles, 308 cannon and 140 airplanes.

Newspapers said the display was intended to give "our Hungarian friends an undeliberate impression of our army and our air force, thus, after the days at Kiel, on the sea, and at Helgoland, rounding out the picture of our armed forces."

Politicking

Dr. C. G. Huston of Costa Mesa, campaigning for supervisor, declared "discovery of new leadership to project accident prevention activity to first claim on the public mind is one of the objectives of the California Safety Council," according to a release mailed by the council, which cited "his 19 years of distinguished civic service in Orange county."

Ray L. Riley, candidate for U. S. senator, rapped the "single tax" initiative as "the height of financial folly."

Herbert C. Legg was classed as "the only major candidate for governor who has had the courage not to scramble undignifiedly for the tail of the 'ham and eggs' pension bandwagon" by a campaign executive.

Lillian Symes Clements, Socialist candidate for senator, favors freedom of Tom Mooney and Warren Billings, said the Socialists in their first publicity release of the season.

George Hatfield, campaigning for nomination as governor, classed Joe Rosenthal, alleged lobbyist and political manipulator, with being "the back door governor of the Merriam administration."

Neck-and-Neck Race With Stork Puts Husband to Bed; Mother, Baby Are Doing Fine

DES MOINES, Ia. (P)—A neck-and-neck race with the stork put the father in bed.

It happened this way: Mr. and Mrs. Colden C. Glenn, Mitchellville, Ia., residents, started for a Des Moines hospital to await the birth of a baby to Mrs. Glenn.

En route they stopped to look at exhibits at the State fair, Mrs. Glenn thinking there was no hurry.

However, she soon learned she was wrong and police were summoned to aid in rushing the woman to the hospital when the father's nerves began to quiver at the thought of a speedy dash through city traffic.

An 8½-pound baby girl was born to Mrs. Glenn immediately upon her arrival in the hospital. Reporters who called to get the story found the mother and baby getting along fine and inquired about the father.

Mrs. Glenn smiled and replied: "I just received a phone call from him. He's at home sick in bed."

And then there is the friend who came to me to file a worry about not getting enough for cotton and before he left another said the price of beans wasn't high enough to make the grower any money, and the walnut man wasn't satisfied, and there wasn't enough room to accommodate all the orange growers. So I have submitted specifications for more room so I can accommodate all the complaints. I like to hear 'em. They are just like mine.

TUNNEL FOUND UNDER HOME L. A. OFFICER

LOS ANGELES (P)—Accused of attempting to tunnel under the home of Police Lieut. William Clark, three men were jailed early today on suspicion of conspiracy to commit murder.

The three are Jack Adams, suspended police officer now awaiting trial on morals charges involving Lieutenant Clark's five-year-old daughter; Harry Allen, 37, and Edward Devlin, 32.

Detective Lieut. Leroy Sanderson said a tunnel had been driven 18 feet from Adams' house to that of Clark, his next door neighbor.

When water used in making the tunnel seeped through on his property, Clark learned for the first time of the project, and reported to police he feared an attempt was being made to "bomb" his house or "fill it with deadly gas."

Detective Sanderson said Adams admitted under questioning early today that he had hired two men to make the tunnel in order to plant a wired listening device which "another man" had asked him to install. He was unable to tell officers the identity of the other man, Sanderson said, or the purpose of the device.

A foot in diameter and nearly two feet below the ground, the tunnel was begun near the gas meter beneath the Adams house, Sanderson said.

Adams was arrested last July 5 on three moral counts involving Clark's young daughter. Suspended from duty, he was at liberty on $5000 bond pending trial Sept. 16.

I Just Found Out About Orange County

By MILLARD BROWNE

Eye Doctors

Can you see the type all right, Mister? If you can't, and if it's because your arms aren't quite long enough to hold the newspaper, and if you're crowding 50, chances are you're a victim of presbyopia.

But it's no strange malady, happens to nearly everyone—all but the ones who were nearsighted when they were youngsters. And there isn't much you can do about it, except to have one of Orange county's two dozen ophthalmologists, opticians and oculists fit you for a pair of glasses.

Eye-doctors put glasses on majorities of fifty-five people, since either presbyopia (old-sightedness) or cataracts just naturally set in as you get up in years. It's not especially serious, but it can cause a lot of eye-strain and headaches if you do a lot of reading and don't have the optics fixed.

With school not far in the offing, local eye-doctors are looking for busy days this next month, since majority of Santa Ana school pupils have their eyes at least checked over every year or two—and an increasing number of them need glasses.

Most of the optometrists' increased business is caused by more public consciousness of the importance of eyes. Was a time no one wore glasses until they got so they couldn't see, now people go out of their way to find symptoms of eye trouble, usually have it tended to promptly.

Triple function of eyes, doctors agree, is to focus on distance, to converge at near objects, to react to light by shutting out over-bright light, letting in more light when it's dim. All three functions must co-ordinate if you have perfect vision, and if you're deficient in any one function, chances are you use a lot of nervous energy trying to make up for the deficiency—and the strain causes lots of other troubles, from headaches to indigestion.

Most prevalent eye deficiency: Hyperopia (farsightedness), since everyone's born that way, in hyperopia, light rays (supposed to focus on the retina) focus behind the retina. Thousands of Santa Anans still are far-sighted, since their eye-balls didn't grow normally and extend the retina back to the focal point.

Myopia (near-sightedness) is second most prevalent eye trouble, and it nearly always is developed by over-strain of youngsters' eyes. It's focusing of light rays in front of the retina.

Other frequent eye difficulties: Astigmatism (unequal focusing of light rays); hyperopia (one eye seeing higher than the other); strabismus (cross eyed).

In hyperopia, since the brain can't resolve the two images into one, it actually causes one eye to go blind, and you'll do nearly all your seeing with the remaining eye. Strabismus is much the same, because crossed eyes normally would make you see double, so nature adjusts it by making one eye turn either in or out to make the focus "binocular" (both eyes seeing the same image).

Just like a team of horses, there's always one "lead eye," and it nearly always coincides with the lead hand. Since half the brain governs the opposite half the body, right-handed persons usually are right-eyed too. (Eye doctors sense trouble when they meet a left-hander who's right-eyed).

Eye-doctors call themselves optometrists, oculists and opticians, and there's a difference in more than name. Oculist is a medical man, often an eye-ear-nose-and-throat man, who specializes in surgery and optical diseases, although he also fits glasses and diagnoses troubles. Optometrist is non-medical and a specialist on refraction (determining the visual capacities of an eye), usually limits his practice to fitting and fixing eye diseases. Optician is the laboratory technician who makes and fits glasses.

There was a time eye-doctors used "drops" and dilated your pupils so they could examine your eyes; that's nearly passed now, with an office-full of fancy instruments doing the work more scientifically.

Fancier eye-diagnosing gadgets: Retinoscope, (to measure focus); ophthalmoscope (to illuminate the eyeball so the doctor can study its insides); myologic unit (to test for hyperopia, also to train eyes back to normal vision); phorometer (instrument to determine what kind of glasses you need).

Some mathematical soul figured the phorometer was capable of 75 quintillion combinations in fitting glasses, which may explain why practically every pair of spectacle lenses is different.

Latest trend in eye treatment: local optometrists point out, is toward orthoptics, which is a means of correcting deficiency by training and guiding the eye muscles back into correct focus (orthoptics, doctors claim, will do for eyes what orthodontistry will for teeth).

Early day baseball umpires were not league officials. The managers met before each game and agreed upon "a gentleman of high repute in the community" to act.

City Tax Rate Of Fullerton Will Be Increased 18 Cents

BONDS, SEWER, LIBRARY FUNDS BOOST FIGURE

FULLERTON. — Representing an increase of 18 cents over last year, the Fullerton city tax rate will be $1.43 on each $100 of assessed valuation for the next fiscal year. Final passing of the budget ordinance and tax rate is scheduled by the city council for 7:30 p. m. Monday.

The rate has been set to raise a budgeted total of $222,475 for the general fund, $33,235 for the library fund and $32,270 for the bond interest and redemption fund. In addition, and not included in the tax rate, the water department budget has been set at $44,268.

The library fund, which includes a new building project for the coming year, represents six cents of the 18-cent increase. Bond interest and redemption have been increased two and one-half cents to assure ample funds to meet bond interest payments, and the general fund is up nine and one-half cents. The general fund increase represents the rate necessary to raise Fullerton's share of the cost of repairing the joint outfall sewer, damaged by the March floods.

Last year's general fund was $193,992 as compared with $222,475 for the coming year. However, estimates of Fullerton's share of outfall sewer reconstruction costs were set at approximately $41,000, which is greater than the total increase over last year figure in the general fund. The library fund, which has been increased from $25,280 to $33,235.

Beg Pardon

In the rush of assembling news on the county page for its first edition yesterday, The Journal erred by transposing two headlines. An item about Carl W. Swartzbaugh's injury in an automobile accident was erroneously carried under the headline, "Anaheim Man Under Arrest," while the item about Edward Leaven Bates' arrest on a morals charge was headlined, "Anaheim Man Hurt in Auto Accident." The Journal corrected its error in the final edition, but regrets any embarrassment it may have caused Mr. Swartzbaugh.

ANAHEIM MAN SEEKS WRIT HABEAS CORPUS

AWAITING trial on charges of selling narcotics, Onesimo Castro, 27, nabbed last month in a district attorney's raid on his Anaheim home, today petitioned superior court for a writ of habeas corpus.

Castro's attorney, Sam Collins, filed a petition alleging that Police Judge Frank Tausch of Anaheim ordered Castro held to answer to the higher court on insufficient testimony. Therefore, Collins contends, his client is being held in the county jail illegally.

Castro was arrested with his brother, Manuel, 25, Manuel's wife, Aurora, 18, and the men's mother, 48, after they assertedly had made several sales of marijuana cigarettes to undercover investigators sent to their South Palm street home by Dist. Atty. W. F. Menton. Manuel and Aurora pleaded guilty to one count of selling narcotics and are awaiting trial on the other.

Manuel asked probation on the count to which he pleaded guilty, but his application was denied and he is now under a year's jail sentence. His wife's application has not been decided.

LOCHINVAR IN RAGS

by KATHRYN CULVER

Julie Hamilton, small-town Southern girl, has drifted into her engagement to Kenneth Terry because they were childhood sweethearts, but she is rather bored with him, and longs for romance with a capital R. When he comes under the spell of Isolde Fleming, glamorous visitor from New York, Julie is indifferent. On the day before her twentieth birthday, while she is in the kitchen, preparing for a party, a young tramp faints at the back door. Reviving, he says he is Barry Caldwell, from the West, and is hiking to New York for a radio audition. Julie, who thinks he is the "handsome thing" she has ever seen, puts him up in the garage and determines to keep him there as long as she can. Police arrive, saying that they received a report a "suspicious character" is hanging around, and that they want to search the premises. Julie, convinced that Barry is a gentleman, manages to keep the police from finding him.

CHAPTER V
"Did you get Mr. Caldwell's suit cleaned and pressed last night, Jake?" Julie asked.

"Yes," she was the one who phoned the cops. She was out in our garden, and saw the man prowling around over here." Julie's laugh was nervous. "I might have known Isolde was the cause of all the trouble! I bet she didn't see any one at all—just trying to stir up some excitement!" Kenneth looked aggrieved. "Julie, let's not quarrel again this time."

He drew her toward him for a kiss, but she pulled away.

her faithful accomplice the next morning.

"Yes, Miss Julie. But it ain't much, even with the dirt cleaned off it." Jake shook his head dejectedly. "It might fazzled 'round the edges."

"Have you been out to help him this morning?"

"He didn't need no help, Miss Julie. He up and dressed 'fore I got there. He's workin' at gluein' his guitar together. Says he gon' down the road when he gets it fixed."

Julie was in the kitchen with Elvira and Jake, busily arranging the supper menu, when she heard the door slam. She turned and saw the Westerner's intention to leave, but she made no answer. She had just finished preparing the tray when Kenneth's voice called from the front door.

"Happy birthday, Julie!" Startled, she whispered to El-

Santa Monican, 80, Killed as He Goes After Aid for Wife

SANTA MONICA. (AP)—On an errand of mercy, E. Van Skike, 80, was struck down by an automobile last yesterday. He died of the injuries early today.

Van Skike had set out to obtain a doctor for his critically ill wife, Mrs. Anna Van Skike, 78. A prominent swimmer, Mrs. Van Skike at the ages of 65 and 13 celebrated their birthday anniversaries by swimming 20 miles from Venice pier to Santa Monica canyon and return.

faced young man who had fainted with hunger across his threshold yesterday. A long night's rest and a shave had wrought a miracle in his appearance. His face, of course, was still thin—but no longer hollow.

He was looking at her so intently that she lowered her eyes in confusion. She stepped inside and set the tray on a table.

"I've brought you your breakfast," she faltered.

"You are more than kind to a wanderer," he said, with grave formality. He drew a chair up before the tray, and lifted the gleaming covers from the dishes. "A feast for a king!"

He began eating slowly and, as he ate, he talked.

"I'm a new man this morning. The hot bath—that was the greatest treat!" He laughed. "And these clean clothes! I'll always be in your debt."

Julie sat down, lacing her fingers tightly.

"You're not... please don't start on your way again until you are much stronger."

He sighed. "It's a long way to New York. I deeply appreciate your hospitality, but I really must go on."

Julie waited a moment, screwing up her courage to say what she had come to say.

Finally, she said tremulously, "Mr. Caldwell—Barry—a moment ago, you said you felt indebted to me."

He paused in his eating. "And I meant it! I'll never forget your kindness!"

Julie leaned forward. "Then would—you do me a favor?"

"By all means! Anything you ask."

"Then listen," Julie went on eagerly. "I'm—I'm having a birthday party tonight and I'm—I'm in need of another man. Would—you stay over, and come to the party?"

He stared at her in astonishment.

"Why—why, Miss Julie! You would ask me—a complete stranger—to your party? And in these clothes? Why, I'd disgrace you forever!"

Julie had thought that all out. He was near enough to Ken's size, she had decided, to wear his clothes.

"The clothes can be arranged," she said.

He hesitated, bewildered by this invitation.

"Please!" Julie begged. "You see—it's not only that I'm in need of another man—but—but there's another reason. There's a girl waiting here from New York whom all the men are going crazy over. That is—one man in particular. A flush stained her cheeks."

"Oh—I see," Barry nodded his head wisely. "You—you like this one man in particular? And you think perhaps I can make him jealous. Is that it?"

"Yes!" Julie said eagerly. She didn't care a whit about making Ken jealous, but she hoped, through this explanation, to persuade Barry Caldwell to stay. "Couldn't—couldn't you pretend to be a rich rancher or something and—know—play up to me?" Barry laughed. "If you think I could fill the bill!"

"Then you will?" Julie urged. He nodded. "If you're sure you really want me to." He paused, then said slowly. "It won't be difficult, Miss Julie—to—to 'play up' to you, as you put it."

His eyes were gazing into hers. For a moment, there was a breathless silence.

"Miss—Miss Julie," he murmured. "do—do you know how beautiful you are?"

Julie's heart did a flip-flop, then raced madly.

She jumped up. "I—I must be getting back to the house..." she stammered.

She fled headlong from the room.

Successful Garden Party Is Staged

Adopting a Spanish motif throughout all appointments, ladies of the Altar society of St. Ann's church were hostesses at a very pretty and a very successful garden party yesterday afternoon, in the lovely rear gardens of the Allen A. Mandy home, 1325 Orange avenue.

There were forty tables of cards at play beneath the colorful beach umbrellas part of which spilled over into the adjoining gardens of the R. W. Weston home. Dessert was served at one o'clock at the tables which were appointed with dainty linens, colorful pottery and other tableware.

Guests were received by the chairman, Mrs. Mandy, who was most attractive in cool white organdie with tiny black dots and a gardenia corsage which was a birthday gift of her husband. She was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Charles Borchard, president of the Altar society, and in serving by her committee composed of Mesdames C. L. Carnes, Gus Callens, James Colombini, E. L. Flannagan, Josephine Schuster and Charles Kellett.

At the close of play, prizes in contract were awarded Mrs. Mary Croal, first; Mrs. Lillie Loranger, second; and Mrs. C. A. Vance, low. VanDeBerg, low.

Father McEneaney, and was won by Ella Mae Biever. The third was donated by Tony's cafe, and was won by Mrs. J. Ashland. For a different canape to serve with cocktails try this: Make biscuits about an inch in diameter. Just before you bake them stick in halves of small sardines, with the edges showing. Bake them—and you'll have a delicious hot tidbit.

Modern Cooks Can't Improve On Grandmother's Jam Recipes

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE

AP Feature Service Writer
Although newfangled cookery has supplanted many old-time methods and made possible saving many hours of labor, grandmother's recipes still are favorites in many families—and deservedly. Especially choice are many of her recipes for canning, particularly jams and preserves.

Pears were one of her favorites. She spiced them, made them into all sorts of conserves, butters and jams—headliners among spreads.

A PEAR CHUTNEY
She considered pear chutney just the thing to serve with chops, roasts, fowl or hot breads.

Here's how to prepare it: Cook together, until thick, eight cups of diced pears, two cups of raisins, half a cup of chopped onions, one tablespoon of celery seed, three tablespoons of salt, one cup of granulated sugar, a fourth of a teaspoon of pepper and three cups of vinegar. It will take an hour or more for it to thicken. Stir frequently to prevent scorching. When it's done pour your chutney into sterilized jars and seal at once.

Pear conserve is another leading spread. There are all sorts of ways to make it. Medley Pear conserve goes like this:

GINGER AND RIPE PEAR JAM
(Makes eleven six-ounce glasses)
Four cups prepared fruit; ½ to 1 cup diced crystallized ginger; 7½ cups granulated sugar; 1 bottle fruit pectin.

Peel, core and crush completely—or grind—about three pounds fully ripe pears. Dice about half a pound of crystallized ginger and measure sugar and prepared fruit, solidly packed, into a large kettle. Add ginger, mix well and bring to a full boil over a very hot fire. Stir constantly before and during boiling. Boil hard for one minute, remove from fire and stir in the fruit pectin. Then stir and skim by turns for just five minutes to cool slightly and to prevent floating fruit. Pour quickly. Paraffin hot jam at once.

Mix together eight cups of sliced pears, six cups of sliced peaches and four cups of sliced quinces. Add half a cup of lemon juice, a third of a cup of orange juice, one tablespoon of grated orange rind, two teaspoons of grated lemon rind and four cups of water. Cook slowly until the fruits are soft. Add 12 cups of granulated sugar. Boil gently until the conserve thickens. Pour into sterilized jars and seal when cold. (Hint for using Medley Pear conserve: Mix it with cottage cheese—to use in filling Graham bread sandwiches.)

Crystallized ginger and luscious ripe pears are a fine team for the jam pot.

Very little needlework was accomplished when members of the Hobby Needlework club were all-day guests Tuesday of Mrs. Ewald Wegner at her lovely beach home on Balboa Island.

Much of the day was given over to swimming and to rides about the harbor in the Wegner's motor boat. A tasty covered dish luncheon was served at noon.

Mix together eight cups of sliced pears, six cups of sliced peaches and four cups of sliced quinces. Add half a cup of lemon juice, a third of a cup of orange juice, one tablespoon of grated orange rind, two teaspoons of grated lemon rind and four cups of water. Cook slowly until the fruits are soft. Add 12 cups of granulated sugar. Boil gently until the conserve thickens. Pour into sterilized jars and seal when cold. COUPLE TO RESIDE IN MIDWEST

Honeymooning in Long Beach this week following their wedding, which was a quiet event of last Sunday afternoon, are Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Jones. Their marriage took place in the Belmont Shores Congregational Community church, with the Rev. M. G. Gabrielson officiating. Mrs. Jones was the former Mrs. Ellen L. Custard, mother of Mrs. Lee Boyle, who made her home here until recently. The rites culminated a romance that had its beginnings in Toledo, Ohio, many years ago.

The home of Mrs. J. L. McBride, 1110 Spurgeon street, was the scene of a tea last Saturday afternoon given in honor of Mrs. Jones, who announced her wedding plans to a group of intimate friends at this time. She was then the incentive for many lovely personal gifts.

At tea time, guests gathered in the dining room, where a long table was made especially lovely with lace cloth and all white decorations with Mrs. George Bradley presiding.

Present at the affair with the honoree, were the Mesdames Larry Golden, George Peters, Rhoda Ramlose, George Cocking, Frank D. Corey, W. W. Kays, George Bradley, George Wells, Lee Boyle, John Moss, Mrs. Jones' grand daughter of Santa Maria, and the hostess.

Sunday, many of the couple's friends are planning to attend a reception which Mr. and Mrs. Boyle are giving in their honor at the Boyle home, Country Club drive, San Gabriel. Mr. and Mrs. Jones will leave shortly for Bethel, Kans., where the former has made his home for many years.

BRIDE-ELECT ANNOUNCES WEDDING DATE

The First Baptist church of Garden Grove will be setting for the nuptials on Oct. 30 at 4:30 p. m. uniting in marriage Miss Myra Lake, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Lake of that city and Royce Edson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Edson of Lemon Heights.

Miss Lake had announced the month of her marriage at a pretty party earlier in the season, but it was not until today that she revealed the exact date. She is being feted at various lovely affairs including two given in Garden Grove this week.

In announcing her marriage date, the bride-elect also named the members of her bridal party. Included as matron of honor is Mrs. Leland S. Dunham of Fullerton, for whose wedding Miss Lake was maid of honor last year.

Bridesmaids will be Miss Juanita Dungan, a cousin, and Mrs. H. Louis Lake, sister-in-law of the bride-to-be, both of Garden Grove, and Miss Jarette Kendall of Hollywood. The little Misses Madonna and Imogene Hepp also of Garden Grove will be flower girls.

HUMORIST IN COURT ON SUIT OVER MOVIE

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Humorist Irvin S. Cobb took the witness stand today to defend himself against a $3750 suit brought by A. J. Stein, assignee for a publishing firm, over sale of motion picture rights to two of Cobb's "Judge Priest" stories contained in a book.

Cobb testified he entered a contract with the publishing firm of Ray Long and Richard B. Smith because of his friendship with Long, who killed himself several years ago. He identified the contract and a royalty check for $296, but denied he owed anything for sale of film rights.

Stein contends the publishers were to have received 25 per cent of any film right proceeds Cobb received and that Cobb sold such rights for $15,000 in 1935 to Fox Film corporation.

The case was continued until tomorrow for arguments on whether Stein is a proper assignee. Cobb said if the assignment is held valid he will contend first that the publishing firm was entitled to share film right proceeds only if it had actually negotiated sale of such rights and second that the publishers abandoned the whole contract in 1934.

MITCHELL AND MENTON FACE COURT FRIDAY

Dist. Atty. W. F. Menton and Supervisor John Mitchell will square off tomorrow before a superior court judge in a semi-windup match preliminary to the county board's long-awaited "main event"—its $100,000 suit against Sheriff Logan Jackson.

Edgar B. Hervey, San Diego lawyer and special attorney for the board of supervisors, may be there too, fighting on Mitchell's side against Menton, who technically is Hervey's boss.

Menton has given notice that he will present a motion for his own withdrawal from Hervey's second "fee suit" against the sheriff, filed after a previous action for $75,000 had failed because Hervey did not file a bill of particulars demanded by Judge Frank Drumm, Jackson's attorney.

The district attorney says Hervey's second action was "improper and unauthorized," and charges his name was used improperly because he was not consulted before the complaint was filed. Mitchell has been instructed by fellow supervisors to appear in court and oppose Menton's withdrawal, which may result in collapse of Hervey's case. Menton contends he has been ready since the controversial salary ordinance was passed last year to file an "appropriate and proper" action to determine rights of the sheriff and of the county under the salary ordinance, designed to substitute a flat salary for the fees Sheriff Jackson formerly was allowed by state law to keep.

At the same time Jackson Drumm will present a motion for a court order demanding that Hervey furnish a more specific bill of particulars than the list he filed last week. Hervey, faced with a second demand for details of the $100,000 he claims over the county, claims the sheriff has made $60,000 profit from feeding prisoners, $20,000 from operation of a canteen or store in the jail, and $20,000 more for service of civil papers and transportation of prisoners to state institutions.

Mexico Makes Settlement of $6000 Now as Result of U. S. Engineer's Killing in '16

Nineteen-sixteen. . . Mexican bandits and soldiers terrorizing pueblos, shooting, yelling. . . An American engineer lost his life when government soldiers captured a little, cactus-studded town.

His widow and children were left in the United States. They saw an attorney, who filed a claim with the Mexican government for the death of the husband and father, Arthur Squires. The claim finally was filed and evidence presented in 1925.

Thirteen years passed. Today W. F. Menton, now district attorney of Orange county, dug into his old files and found records of the claim. He had just received notice that the Mexican government—in a time when powerful foreign ministers are unable to secure payment for expropriated properties—is going to pay $6000 in settlement of the claim.

"We'd all forgotten about it," chuckled Menton. The claim is to be paid to three sons of Mr. Squires, all of them now grown. They are Arthur, Charles and Louis. Their mother, since remarried, is Mrs. Margaret N. Squires Nommels of Compton. The money, $2000 for each son, will be paid through a special Mexican-American claims commission.

Junior College Registration Scheduled to Start Sept. 8

Registration of Santa Ana Junior college students for the fall semester will begin in College hall on Thursday, Sept. 8, it was announced today by Registrar Mabel G. Whiting.

Students previously enrolled will register Sept. 8. Those with surnames beginning L to Z will sign up from 8 a. m. to noon, and those in the first half of the alphabet will register in the afternoon.

Friday, Sept. 9, is the date for registration of new students, with the same alphabetical arrangement being used to speed the registration.

New students all are required to attend the annual Freshmen days, Sept. 6-8. The period has been set aside as an orientation period to acquaint incoming students with college life and instruct them on registration and arranging of courses, Director D. K. Hammond said. Talks on college life, instructions for new students, entertainment and luncheons are being planned for the Freshmen days.

Appointments now are being made at the college office for students to go over their curriculum with jaycee instructors.

BOARD HOLDS MEETING ON BUDGET FRIDAY

County supervisors will gather tomorrow for public hearing on the $2,000,000 1938-39 county budget—and probably will adopt it.

The hearing, required by law, has been set for 10 a. m. in the supervisors' room at the courthouse. At that time citizens may be heard for or against the entire budget or any of its items.

Indications were there would be some protests. The county board already has received four letters protesting the possible 26 per cent increase in county tax rates.

This year's budget, if adopted as published two weeks ago by Auditor W. T. Lambert, would call for a county tax rate of $1.02 for property inside incorporated cities and $1.06 in the unincorporated area, the outside area paying 2 cents each per $1000 assessed valuation for road districts and county library.

Last year's inside tax rate was 81 cents; the outside rate was 86 cents per $100 assessed valuation. Valuation of property in the county rose only slightly this year over 1937-38 figures, principally because of depreciation in values caused by the March 3 flood.

State law provides the budget must be adopted on or before Aug. 30, and that the tax rate must be set on or before Sept. 1.

Vets' Daughters, Sons Will Picnic

Sons and Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War will gather for an old-fashioned basket picnic and steak bake at 6:30 p. m. tomorrow at the pavilion in Irvine park.

Commander Perry Grout and President Ella Smith are in charge of the picnic, assisted by committees from both organizations. Coffee, sugar and cream will be furnished by the committee; and members will bring their own table service.

WRITER HELD 'SLIMY', AIDED BY GAMBLERS

If the mysterious author of "Fools Rush In," defamatory political pamphlet circulated last week, happened to be listening to the radio last night, his ears must have burned.

If he was listening, he heard one of his targets assail him as a "loathsome, slimy creature." He heard the candidate he endorsed most highly repudiate that endorsement.

NO WORDS SPARED

Candidates speaking over KVOE last night included George Holden of Anaheim, candidate for district attorney; Sheriff Logan Jackson, not appearing personally but speaking through Under Sheriff Fred Wilbur; Franklin G. West, candidate for superior judge, department two; and Don Wilkie, supporter of Jesse L. Elliott for sheriff and unsuccessful candidate against Jackson in 1934.

Holden, attacked in the defamatory leaflet as "backed by gambling interests," flayed authors of the publication in no uncertain terms.

"You are cowards," he said, " devoid of decency and manhood; loathsome, slimy creatures—I challenge you all to come out."

GAMING LINK CHARGED

Not one cent of gambling or "bookie" money, said Holden, has been contributed to his campaign. S. B. Kaufman, Anaheim attorney attacked in the leaflet as being connected with gambling interests, did not suggest his candidacy, Holden said, had made no donations and given no support to him, "a rather loose arrangement for a mortgaged soul."

The gamblers, Holden said, actually are "supporting two candidates who were rated much higher than I in the pamphlet." He said his record was open to any publicity campaign manager.

Sheriff Jackson had been scheduled to speak in his own behalf; but Under Sheriff Wilbur read his prepared address instead.

"The issue," he said, "is whether law enforcement shall be surrendered to the gambling interests." He repudiated as "cowardly" the endorsement given him in the leaflet, and hinted the publication came from the gambling interests attacked by it.

West, interviewed by his brother, Eddie West, local newspaperman, pledged a full day of service if he is elected judge of the superior court, promised promptness in arriving for work and in deciding submitted cases, and pledged courtesy to those having business with the court.

Wilkie, whose blistering attacks at Jackson made the 1934 campaign one of the warmest in history, was calm by comparison last night. He praised Elliott and said the latter would not interfere with local police officers, and denied rumors of a "deal" between Elliott and himself.

"No payoff is ever going to be made," said Wilkie. "I give you my word that there is not a single job in the sheriff's office that I have been promised, that I have been offered, or that I would ever take."

J. C. BOND ELECTION SEPT. 23

Speculation that Senator James P. Pope, defeated for the Democratic senatorial nomination in the recent Idaho primary, would run as an independent candidate in the coming general election, increased when the Idaho junior senator conferred with President Roosevelt at the latter's Hyde Park, N. Y., home. They are shown together as they watched a softball game on the nearby estate of Lowell Thomas between the "New Deal Purges" and the "Nine Old Men." Thomas is seated in the front seat of the President's car.

IDAHO G. O. P. CHIEF ADMITS POPE ATTACK

BOISE, Idaho. (AP)—Ezra Whitla of Coeur d'Alene, Republican national committeeman, said today in a press statement it "probably is true" that "Idaho Republicans went into the Democratic primary and defeated Senator James P. Pope."

"Each faction of the Democratic party urged the Republicans to vote for their respective candidates to help them out, and if they did so it is solely the fault of that party and they cannot blame the Republican party therewith," he said.

Pope, a staunch New Dealer, was defeated by Rep. D. Worth Clark, self-styled conservative, in the Democratic senatorial nomination race Aug. 9.

"The Democratic party is responsible for the law we have in Idaho giving all persons one ballot with all parties' candidates thereon and allowing the voter to vote for whichever party he desires," Whitla said.

Here's One Way to Reduce Greatly Your Electric Bill

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Here's a suggestion on how to pay your electric bill—if you have musically-inclined neighbors.

The rural electrification administration related today that a negro family living near Bowling Green, Va., installed a "nickel-in-the-slot" phonograph when the house was wired for electricity.

Enough friends played the phonograph during the first month to take care of most of the electric bill.

SCHOOL CHIEF STARTS EAST

Frank Henderson, Santa Ana school superintendent, left today for Washington, D. C., to attend a three-day conference of the National Education association's committee on adult civic education.

The conference is scheduled for Aug. 29, 30 and 31, and Henderson, a member of the NEA committee, will return to Santa Ana Sept. 4.

He was granted a leave of absence from the local school district is not standing the expense of the trip.

TICKETS READY FOR OPEN-AIR CLUB MEETING

Committees are actively engaged in selling tickets and making preparations for entertainment. The breakfast will be served by Pat Kelly. Vic Soper is in charge of the program, which will consist of six special numbers. It is expected that 200 members of the club and their guests will participate.

5 FELONS LOSE FIGHT TO LIVE

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Five convicts convicted of the killing of Warden Clarence Larkin in an unsuccessful prison break at Folsom prison last September must die for the crime, the state supreme court held today.

The convicts, under death sentences, are in condemned row at San Quentin prison. They claimed Superior Court Judge Dal M. Lemmon of Sacramento erred in disallowing jury challenges. The supreme court yesterday held that, although the jurors in question had read about the case and formed opinions, they were not disqualified because they had agreed to "act impartially and fairly."

Tux and Gown Chatter

Clothes, Clothes, Clothes. Is that all the modern American women are thinking of this year? Did I say this year? Well I guess it is our privilege what with so many affairs to go to and to look nice for the gentleman escort. SHAKEUP PREDICTED IN N. L. NIGHTBALL RANKS

Rumor: Brea and Irvine of the National Nightball league will return to the County league next year, with Westminister a 100 fielding a club in the Class B circuit.

There's nothing official on this, however.

An up-county fan suggests that the National league be reduced to four members—Huntington, Paul Wright Beach, Santa Ana, Anaheim and Orange—next year, playing each other instead of four times.

Another suggests that the admission be reduced from 25 cents to 10 cents. Still another suggests that a smaller ball and longer baselines be employed.

The National league undoubtedly will find something that will revive fan interest. The game isn't dead. As evidence, witness the 1000 fans who turned out for the City league playoff.

If the players are as dazzling as their uniforms, Coaches Bill Cook and John Ward will be satisfied.

As two-time champions of the Eastern conference, the Dons will be marked men this fall. With competition growing keener and keener, their task will not be easy against such clubs as San Bernardino which shared the title last fall; Chaffey and Riverside.

MONTANEZ IN COMEBACK

NEW YORK, (AP)—Pedro Montanez, the Puerto Rican lightweight, who never lost a bout in the United States until he tried to lift the championship from Lou Ambers last year, apparently isn't going to let that one defeat discourage him.

Pedro had a bad night in every way against Ambers and was badly beaten. He lost no time starting to work his way up from the bottom again but was checked this summer by illness and injury.

Last night he proved he's fit once more, and ready to make a bid for the title now held by Henry Armstrong, when he scored a five-round technical knockout over Orville Drouillard, a rather hardy customer from Windsor, Ont.

Montanez banged Drouillard around from the very start and floored him for a nine count in the third with a vicious right to the stomach. He repeated the dose in the fifth, a right to the body and a left to the head, and Referee Arthur Donovan called a halt as the Canadian sank to his knees. Montanez weighed 138½ and Drouillard 137.

N. L. Prexy Criticizes Lively Ball

HURLERS NEED AID, CLAIMS FORD FRICK

By CLYDE TALBOT

NEW YORK, (AP)—What with the hospitals putting in special wings to take care of sore-arm pitchers who have balled in line of duty, President Ford Frick of the National league thinks it high time something was done to preserve the species.

"It's got me worried," he admitted. "Something's got to be done to give the pitchers a better break, but I don't know exactly what the answer is yet."

The present season already has seen such mound stalwarts as Carl Hubbell, Dizzy Dean, Van Lingle Mungo, Lefty Grove, Hal Schumacher, Schoolboy Rowe, Tommy Bridges and Slick Castelman either carted off to the operating room or their efficiency so impaired that they are of little or no value to their clubs.

BLAMES LIVELY BALL

Bobby Feller and Cliff Melton, two of the game's most promising youngsters, have "lost" their fast ball. Johnny Vander Meer, after a sensational start, has lost the charm he held over the batters.

"It's the lively ball that's killing them off," said Frick. "Not a doubt of it. The pitcher is being forced to bear down on every throw, to punish his arm on every pitch. There's never a spot where he can ease up."

"I think we helped our National league pitchers a little by putting thicker covers and stitching on our balls this season, but it's not enough. What I would like to do is slow up the ball inside, really cut down on these cheap hits. The manufacturers, though, claim it can't be done, that if they take any life out of the 'innards' the ball will go soft and lop-sided."

"That isn't the whole trouble, either. Did you realize we are throwing an average of 30 new balls into every game nowadays? That means—let's see—that a pitcher has to toss a slick, new ball an average of about every sixth pitch. Did you ever try to curve a new ball, right out of the box?"

"Used to be the two pitchers didn't have to handle more than a dozen balls a game. They lasted a long time and were great pitchers in those days. The umpires didn't throw a ball out just because it became a little discolored. Also, they were permitted to use spitters, emery balls and other devices that helped them."

SWINGING FROM HEELS

"Now the moment a ball gets a spot of dirt on it or a little nick in its cover the batter complains, and it's thrown out of the game. That's why you don't see any 200 hitters in the lineups any more. They're all swinging from their heels, and the pitchers are ruining their arms trying to fool them."

"As I see it, the club owners simply are going to have to get together and agree on a relief program. For my part, I'm going to talk it every opportunity I get. Something is certain to be done eventually."

Queen of Trotting Horse Racing Shows Dust to Best Men Drivers

Mrs. E. Roland Harriman Rating a Fast Harness Horse

GOSHEN, N. Y. (AP)—Mrs. E. Roland Harriman is unquestionably the "first lady" of the American trotting turf.

She is such a good trotting-horse driver that she defeats men at one of their own games—most of the time.

Her husband, president of the Grand Circuit, and chairman of the Trotting Horse club, governing body of the sport, inherited his interest in harness racing from his father, E. H. Harriman of New York, a railroad empire builder of the last generation.

In 1929, Mrs. Harriman drove Highland Scott, a pacer belonging to her husband, a mile at Goshen in 1:59.4. This constituted a new world record and bettered by a quarter of a second any speed which any man had been able to get out of the horse. She has since set a number of other world records.

Mrs. Harriman engages principally in "matinee" races, those events restricted to amateur drivers. Quite often, however, she has won races from professional drivers.

She races against men in about 25 races a year. She defeats the men about 70 per cent of the time. The job of driving a trotter or pacer is to "rate" him properly—that is to conserve his strength and speed until the last quarter mile of the race.

It is at rating that Mrs. Harriman excels.

EYSTON SAYS 360 IS LIMIT But London Driver Differs

WENDOVER, Utah. (AP)—The world's high speed king, Capt. George E. T. Eyston of England, feels that at almost 360 miles an hour he virtually has reached the ceiling of speed on land.

His chief rival, John Cobb, also of London, holds, however, that there is no limit to the rate of motion man can attain on the ground.

The tank, nerveless Eyston, yesterday was officially timed at 347.16 miles an hour as he rocketed his thunderbolt automobile through the measured mile on the Bonneville salt flats just east of here.

He admitted today dash-board instruments showed he felt "devilish close to 360" on the return run through the mile when failure of an electric-eye timing device nullified his certain new record.

"I've figured it out scientifically," said Eyston, "and I don't think a land speed of much more than 360 miles an hour is possible."

"Racing tires to hold up at greater speeds can't be built. At 360 the outside of the tire is traveling at the speed of sound, about 700 miles an hour. If they weren't completely shielded, the wind alone would rip them wide open."

"After you pass 300, the graph of danger rises almost vertically, and the graph of car and engine performance drops rapidly. Man won't go much faster than 360 on land and live to tell about it."

Countered Cobb: "If you can get tires that will hold up, if mechanical engineering continues its remarkable development, and if you can get long enough straightaway courses, I don't think there's any limit to the speed man could travel."

Cobb, who is awaiting use of the salt flats for a record attempt in his turtle-shaped Railton, and Sir Malcolm Campbell of England are the only other men who have driven a car faster than 300 miles an hour.

Campbell set the mark at 301 m. p. h. on the flats in 1936. Eyston hiked it to 311.42 last November. Cobb hit better than 300 in a trial run last week.

Eyston's crew set to work grooming Thunderbolt for a new assault tentatively set for tomorrow.

FINALS OPEN AT COLTON WITH OILERS

Survivors of four-out-of-seven game preliminary playoffs, San Bernardino and Huntington Beach will open a similar series at Colton Monday night for the National Nightball league championship.

Although outthit 11-8 by Manager "Doc" Smith's Stars, San Bernardino reached the final round with a 4-2 victory over Santa Ana at Colton last night, when all six runs were crowded into a sensational eighth inning.

FIRST TWO AT COLTON

Manager Joe Rodgers of Huntington Beach, who attended the Star-Pony finale, won a flip of the coin, and elected to play the first two games at Colton Monday and Wednesday night.

The third game, he said, may be brought to the Municipal bowl the following Friday night.

The Stars bowed-out of the playoffs with the satisfaction of having played one of the most heated series in nightball annals. They won the first game, 4-3, in 14 innings, then dropped four straight by the narrow margins of 1-0, 1-0, 2-0 and 4-2.

After seven innings of shutout ball on both sides, the Stars gave Pitcher Stan Jacobsmeyer a two-run lead in the first of the eighth. With one away, "Doc" Smith singled over the infield, and Ray Short blasted a triple to bring in his manager. Short scored on Catcher Bomo Korak's single.

The way Jacobsmeyer was hurling, that 2-0 lead looked mighty sweet, but San Bernardino went on a rampage in the last of the eighth. Eddie Weiser, "Red" Andrews and Chet Stock singled to load the bases. Rosy Gilhouse singled to score Weiser. And with the bags still bulging, Nottingham whaled a long triple to left-center for the final three runs.

MAYER GOES OUT

Rodgers, Bob (Lefty) Fowler for the opening game with Huntington Beach at Colton Monday night, San Bernardino elected to employ its rookie battery of "Bud" Mayer and Ted Welch. Mayer's right-handed slants failed to bother the Stars' defense in a previous meeting, but he was effective in scattering 11 hits so that the Stars produced only two runs. He went the entire route.

Manager Smith said his Stars would turn in their suits. "We've had a long, hard season, and I feel that Jacobsmeyer, who has mired brilliantly for us this year, deserves a rest," Smith commented.

Rodgers said he and his wife would leave for a week-end fishing trip in the High Sierras. "I'm going to forget about nightball until next Monday night," he said. "Huntington Beach has been given an edge by critics in the finals with San Bernardino, although a heated series is predicted."

Barney Ross, now winding up a vacation in up-state New York, will settle down to business with his father-in-law here Sept. 15. Several American league clubs are outthitting the Yanks, but the McCarthys have scored over 100 more runs than any other team in the league. "The answer to that is easy," says Joe DiMaggio. "We hit the long ones."

Max Schmeling really intends to come back here and have another try for the heavyweight title. Biggest trader on the winter baseball market probably will be Gabby Hartnett of the Cubs who is just about ready to clean house.

Al Buck, the middleweight (who was named by the boxing expert of the New York Evening Post) made six starts in 1937, losing six (four by kayos). . . . Buck, the sports writer, is threatening to enter Buck, the fighter, in a claiming race. . . . Put down those Cardinals for the prize nose dive of the season. . . . Everyone expected them to be bad, but quite that bad. . . . Jim Braddock is looked solid for refereeing dates in September.

LIONETTES IN 8-5 VICTORY

Pushing across five runs in a sensational fifth-inning rally, Orange's Lionettes came from behind 4-1 lead to defeat the stubborn Pepsi-Cola nine, 8 to 5, in a Major Girls' league game at Orange last night.

The victory elevated the Orange girls into a first-place deadlock with Bank of America, with Columbia Pictures in third spot.

The Lionettes play Columbia Pictures in Hollywood tomorrow night.

Lois Terry, "Blonde Bombshell" of the Orange pitching staff, limited the invaders to four hits with her southpaw slants. She also collected the best hit of the evening with a long triple, which scored Phoebe Miller after her single in the sixth.

SPORTS Roundup

By EDDIE BRIEITZ

NEW YORK, (AP)—Old Tony Canzoneri is working out daily in a gym here and friends are afraid he is going to try to come back. . . . Charlie Comiskey, 12-year-old son of the White Sox owner, is making the eastern swing with the Sox. . . . He puts on a uniform, sits on the bench and is having the very devil of a time. . . . and he was in Jim Braddock's spot at 10:30 last night, mom. . . . The Yanks say the reason you don't see more of Red Rolfe (he's just one of the two best right sackers in the majors) in the headlines is because Red is strictly a team man.

Tommy Farr isn't booked to fight anybody; he isn't even in training, but his fan mail averages 400 letters per week, most of them asking for photos. . . . The Cardinal front office (Breadon and Rickey) is said to have a mild feud on as to whether Frankie Frisch will get a new contract. . . . Breadon is pro and Rickey is anti. . . .

Henry Armstrong is the world's welterweight champion, but can't fight over the weight bout in that division because he can't build up to 145 pounds to save his life. Note to Mel Harder: Joe DiMaggio says you give him more trouble than any other chucker in the American league.

Lou Ambers' fine stand against Armstrong won him a flood of offers from all over the country and Lou will go barnstorming next month. . . . any day now Mrs. Willis Moody may announce she has turned pro. . . .
